The last strains of the lullabye Must fade and gently die Goodbye, Farewell, goodbye . . . and take the night lamp, too.

Alone, Afraid, Adrift on the menacing paths That twist in endless dark.

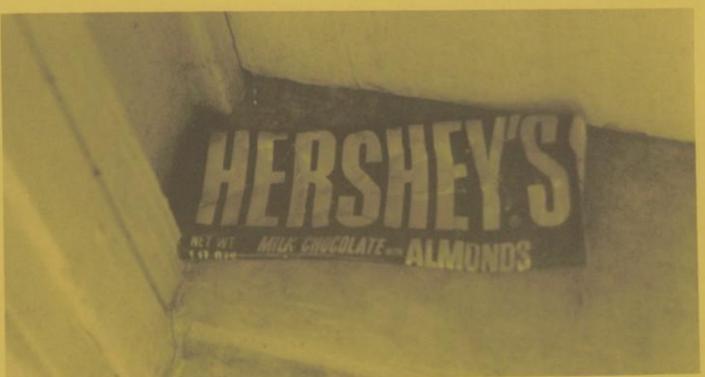

Dark in the wood And the wind bites deep Into fearful bones.

Press on to light Though fright fettered feet hesitate, And whining winds shiver sick and weary travelers.

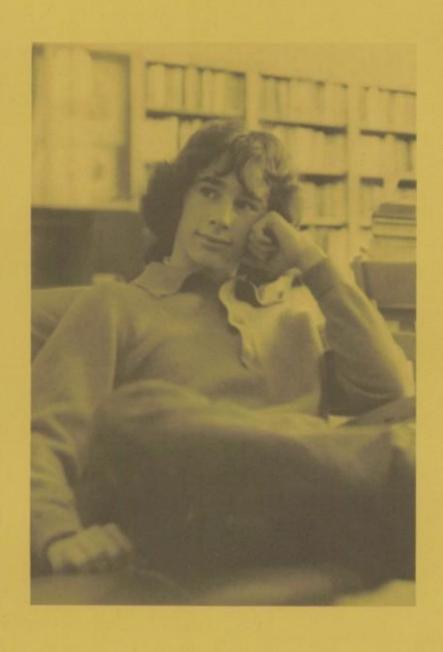

A silent heart plea ascends heavenward amidst the dark.

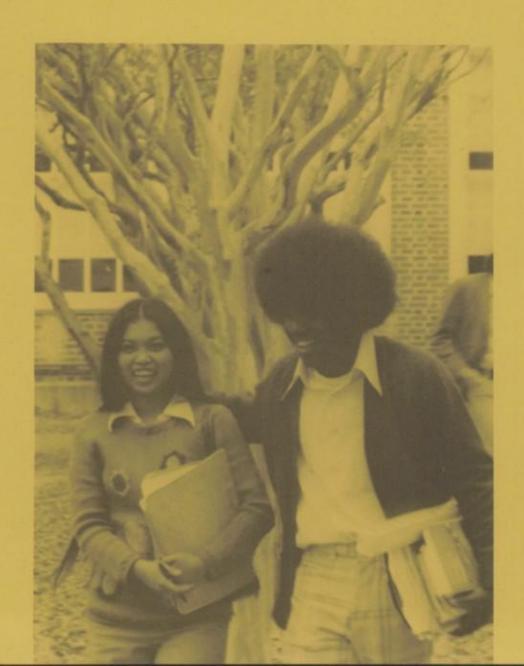

Overhead, a flash — A sizzling star skims the sky,

Slicing the heavy feather pillow clouds
That split showering silvery constellations.

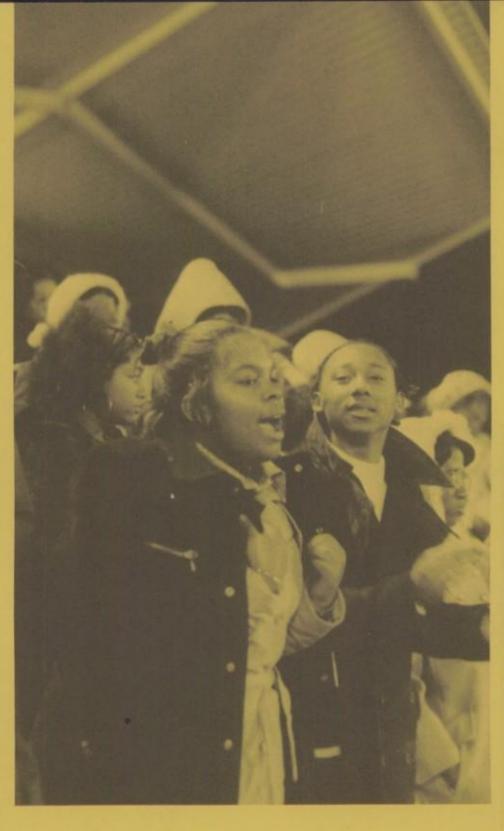

Glimmering trails
Like triumphant banners
Illuminate the scene.

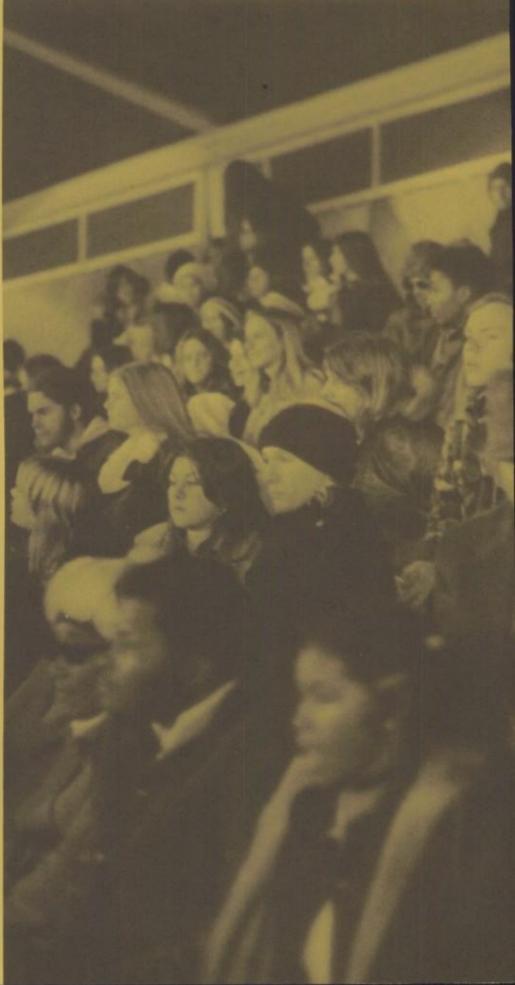

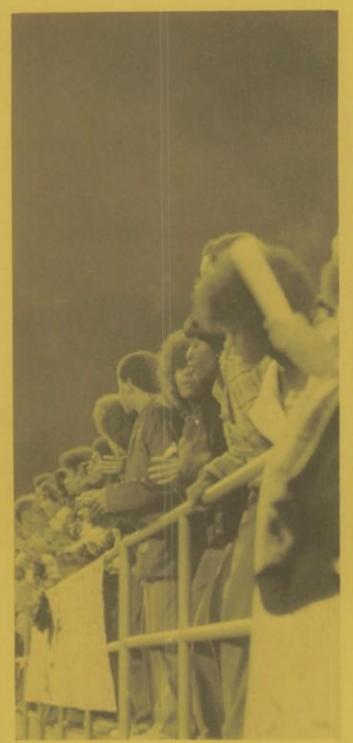

Celebration!
As the circle of seekers is complete.

In a renaissance reunion Rainbow radiations Light upon the land.

Renewal

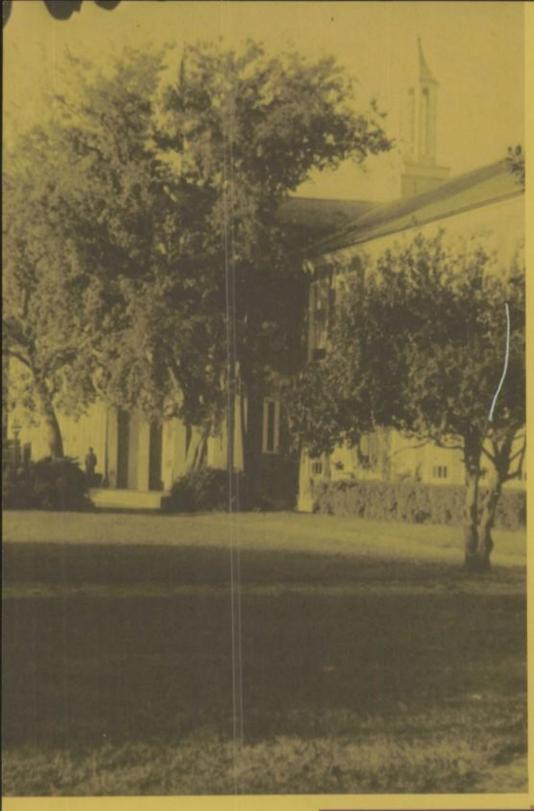

links the pilgrims.
Liberated
— to trumpet
as troubadors.

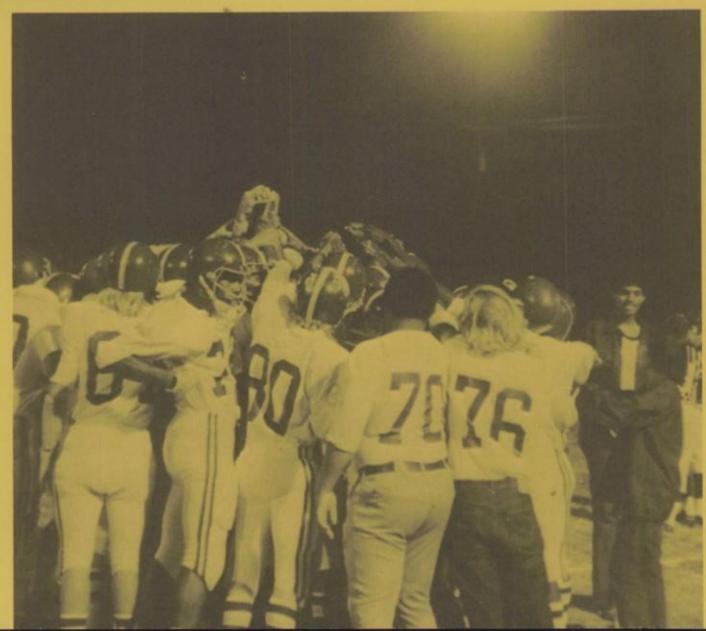

The magic minstrels shining on unified!

Last Will and Testament

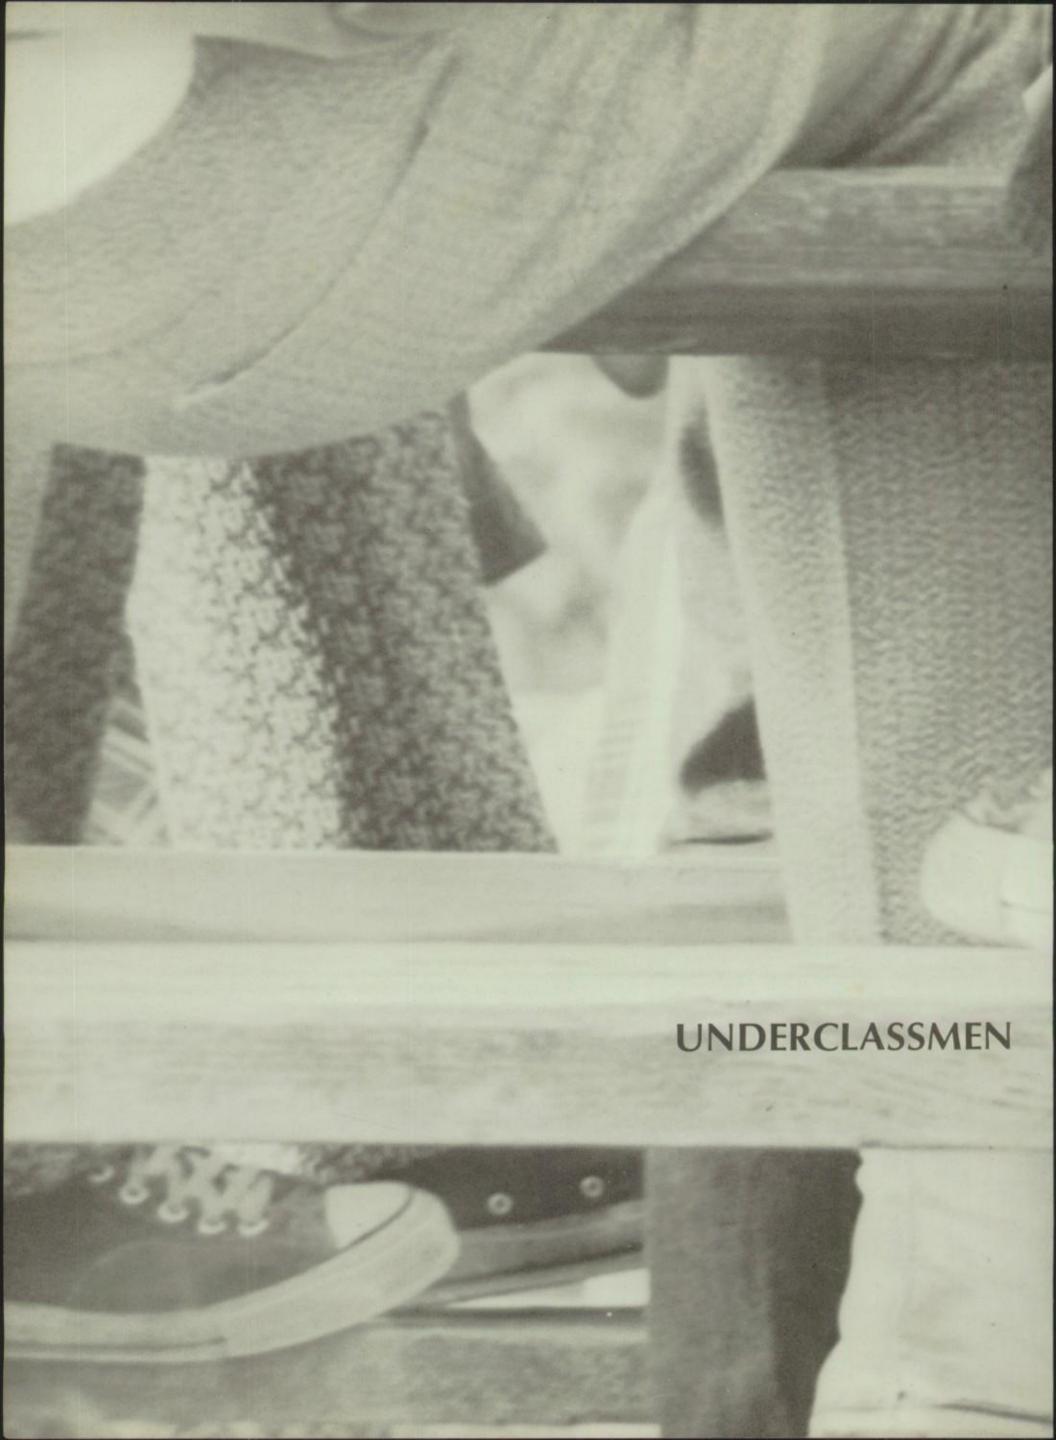

- I, Brooks Davis, leave everything that a person needs to know about friendship and kindness to any deserving soul who would like it.
- I, Butch Thornton, give the Masonic Temple parking lot to the students of Granby, so they may strive for a higher education . .
- We, Caryl McClannon and Melissa Unruh, do hereby leave all our snacks, lunches, etc. to Faustino Cortes to Mr. Dixon's fourth bell study hall, to help him make it through next year's wrestling season . .
- I, Bob Straddeck, being of half way sound mind, leave to Captain Joyce the thesis that rutabagas do belong in the fruit salad. To Miss Bates I leave the various asundery deadly sins, to Dawn Fox, the immortal words of Shakespeare, and to Mr. Anderson 234 "post pubertal pamphlets.
- I, Phyllis White, leave a penalty to Mr. Schutte for too many TIME OUTS during the year. I also leave my sarcasm, wit, and gum chewing and a record for annoying endlessly to our devoted librarians. Finally, I leave Mr. Mitchell an ego trip.
- WE, the AP English class, leave with the nuances and subtleties of interpretations and a joy of learning.
- I, Dana Teitelman, leave to Mr. Cobb two unforgettable years in French, to Mrs. Hickey, all my last minute art projects, to Mr. Mitchell, a book in the Etruscans, and to Miss Knight, many, many nuances, and because its about time, I leave.
- I, Nancye Lawrence, leave to Mr. Schutte my paintbrush and shorts. I, leave to the next president of the French Club, Mr. Cobb. Finally, I leave to Mr. Anderson, any girl he can bully into wearing a dress.
- I, Robin Gaines, leave my ink pen to Garnise Reid.
- I, Debbie Belkov, leave all the music she can hear to Roz Kreshin, a trashcan full of clay to wedge to Lisa Bresenoff, Mrs. Knight's winks to Phyllis White and Nancy Kaplan, typed up mimeographed forms from now until eternity to Mr. Shutte, boyfriend problems to Lynn Kelly, and all the classes I missed this year to Debbie Kantor.
- I, Chuckles Kilmer, leave to Granby High School Mr. Brown, should anyone wonder what he looks like. To L.B., a bird once with a wing down, I leave the freedom of flight, and the faith of a friend.
- I, Aucelia Versoza, leave my name to be pronounced and spelled in as many ways possible, and twelve inches of my "long and silky" to Mr. Anderson.
- I, Roz Kreshin, leave (with laryngitis) my endless supply of questions and Mr. Hartnett to Mr. Mitchell, my exciting gas station stories to Mr. Hughes first bell class, and my obsession with the names "Mr. Mitchell" and "the Kennedys" to Mr. Medas.
- I, Lorrie Smith, leave "Elizabeth" and my pencil to Mr. Anderson, my sixth bell library notes to Mr. Caddell and all the headaches of Commencement Committee to next year's chairman.
- I, Ellie Hadden, being of sound body and soul leave to any art student "The How to Not Finish An Art Project" pamphlet available only by request. I also leave a book on how to get spirit from Granby High.
- I, Darlene Plummer, being of sound mind and body leave the job of concert chorus treasurer to anybody that can take all the hard work and patience.
- I, Susan Proescher, leave to Betsy Proescher my special spot in the parking lot. I, Susan Proescher, leave
- I, Mark O'Hubal, reputed to have a good body, do hereby bequeath my goggles to "Tiny" Tom Prehn, my suits to Beth Blanchard, and my sidestroke to Mr. Bryant.
- I, Cynthia Carter, leave Afro wig to all those who don't have any hair.
- I, Judy Rosenblatt, do hereby leave a brand new combo to Mr. Schutte, so he will always be able to show his wonderful filmstrips. The Fate of Man (in Russian) I leave to all the Russian three students and a full length mirror to Mr. Mitchell. To Miss Bates, I leave a year's supply of commas.

- I, Patricia Huff, leave to the teachers of Granby High School my shoes, with which I walked from class to class.
- I, Sharon D. Miller, leave my "temper tantrums" to Claudia Wood, my empty pocketbook to Arlene Rowe, and my straight A's to Laverne Miller, my dear sis.
- I, Barbara Latham, leave the job of correspondent for WNOR to anyone who has the patience to do a good job, and I leave WNOR's "Teenangel" to the ever famous seniors of 1974.

To Mr. Schutte I award the Napolean Bonapart Award for inspired leadership, decisive lectures, and an ambition analogous to Napoleon's.
- I, Margaret Highsmith, leave to anyone (hopefully S.J.C.), a tiring, hard job, as editor-in-chief. I leave it to anyone that can do the job and still agree with.Mr. Brewer. Also. I leave to the underclassmen, GOOD LUCK, for the road is hard, and with the teachers at Granby, well
- I, Anne Adler, leave Miss Bates Shakespeare, images of blood, insanity and death to bring about a sense of catharsis in all of her upcoming students. To Mr. Mitchell, I leave my knowledge in architecture (including a dilapidated Parthanon and Feudal Manor, Finally, I leave bus no. 5, in hopes that it will get to school on time.

Varsity Football — '73

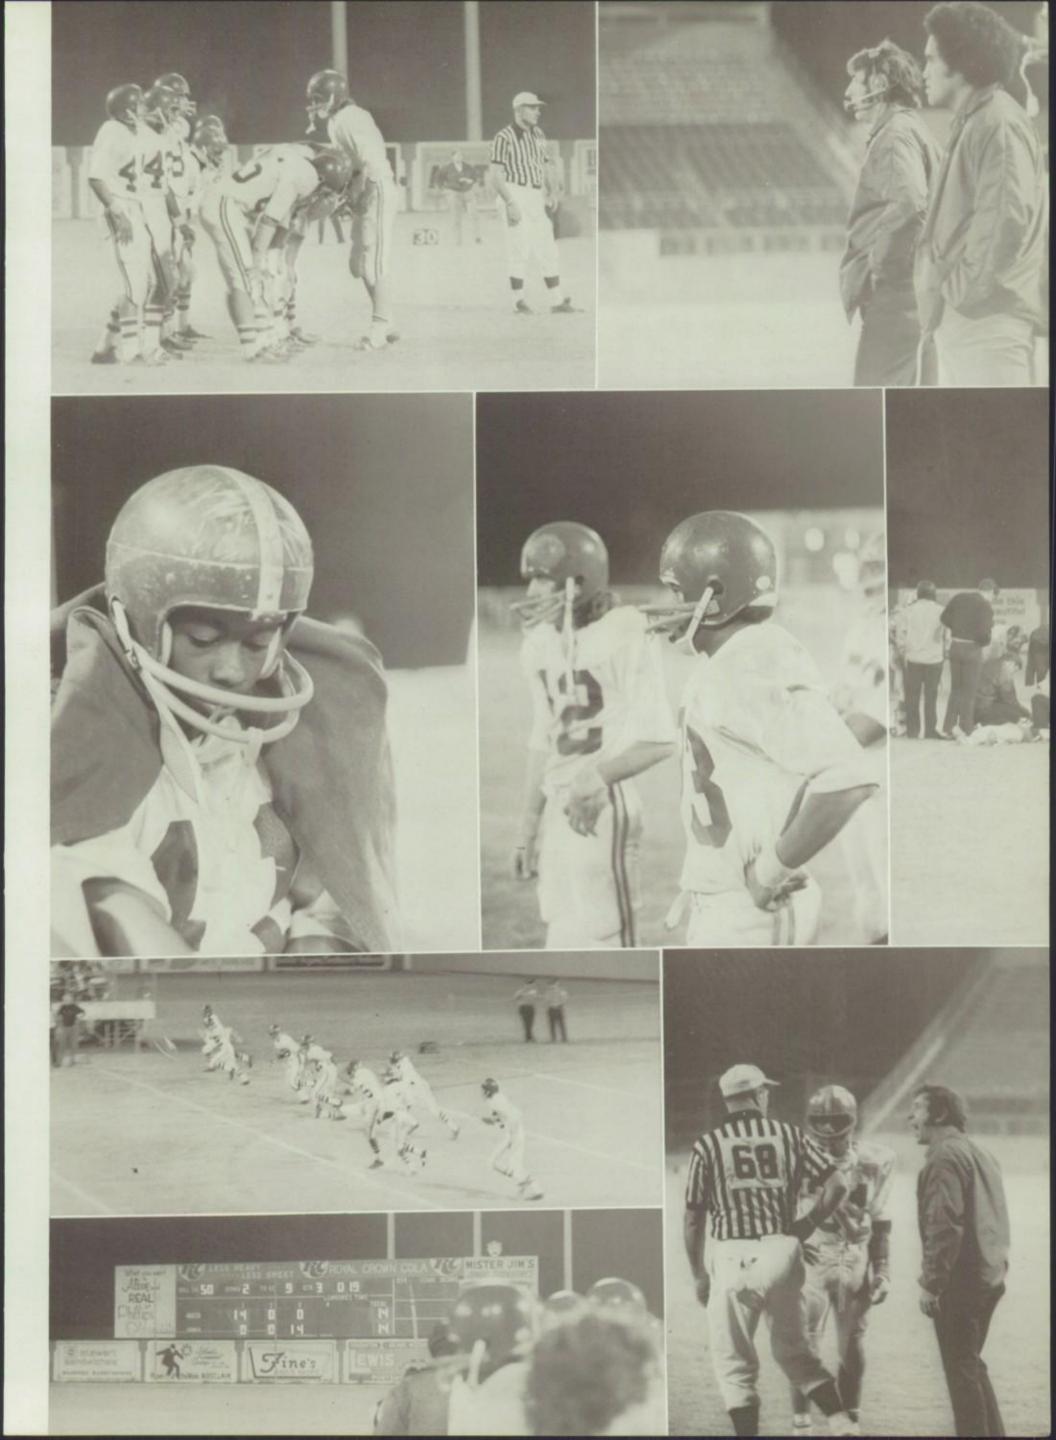

Record wise the football team did not have a fantastic year, but pride and togetherness was unsurpassed. The team was young with only seven veterans. The Comets were fair on offense, led by Leonard Tatem, David Woodhouse, Carl Spruill, and Brooks Davis. Defensive standouts were Thomas Little, Ronnie Jones, Anthony Vasco, Pat Miller, and Leonard Tatem.

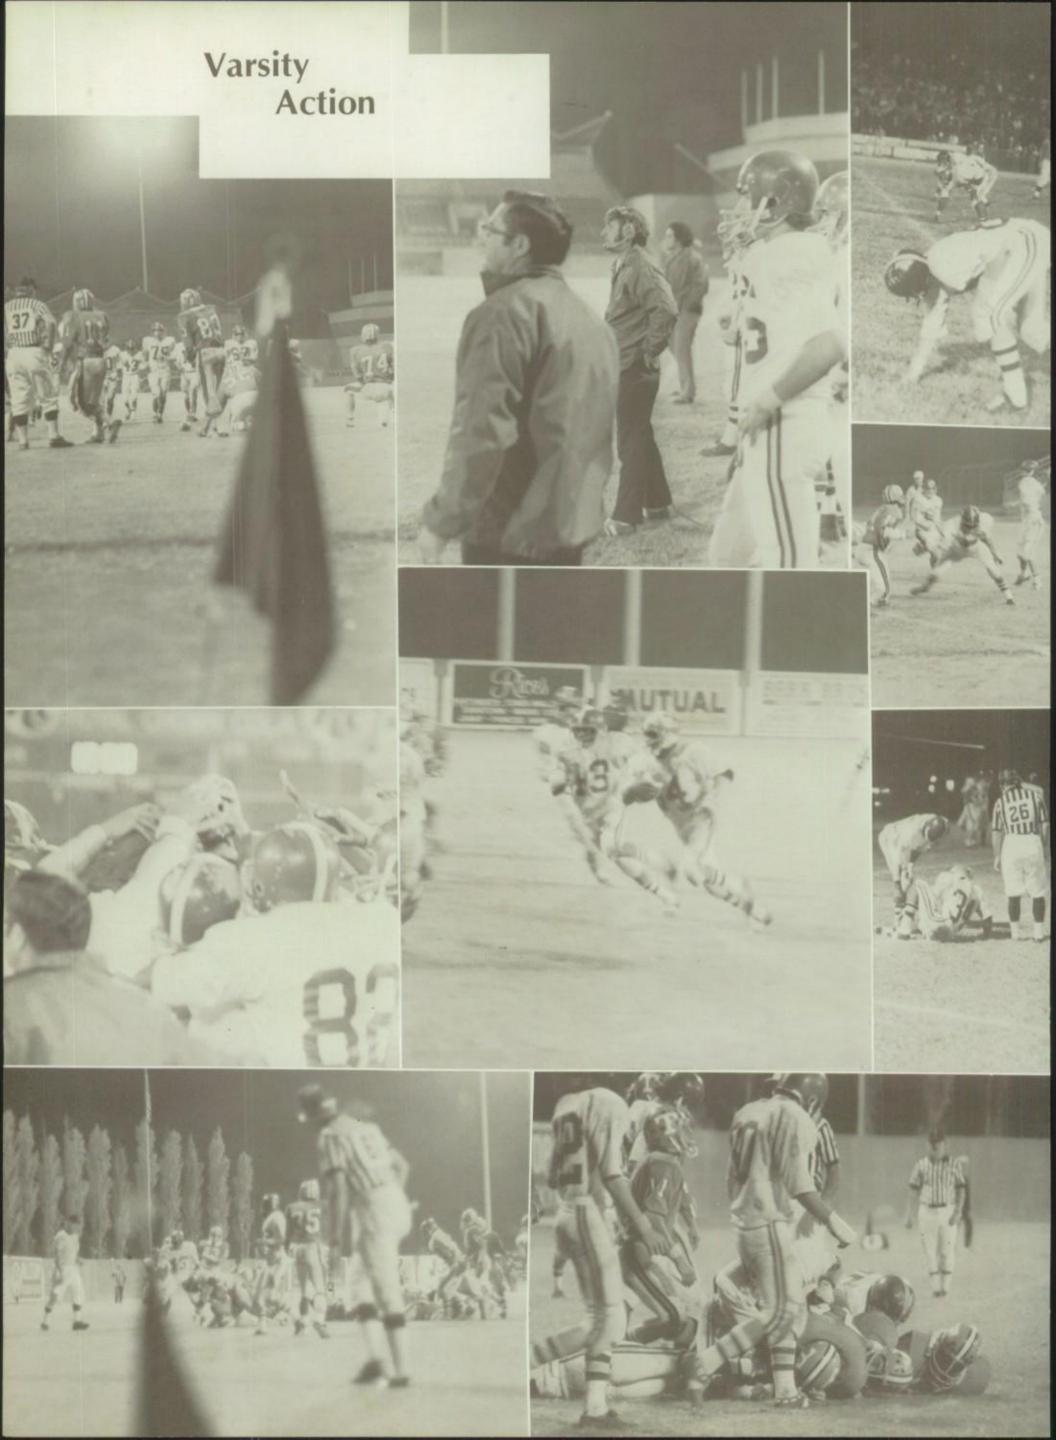

The coaching staff was overwhelmed by the enthusiasm and dedication of the team. With only eight players leaving the team, Granby's next football team will be very competitive in the fall.

This years Track team seems to be very promising. So far with an undefeated record, the team is working hard everyday after school. With senior star Herby Almond and junior, Lawrence Lee, holder of two school records, the team has exceptional strength. Added depth is mile record holder Steve Costa. The team is expecting an undefeated season.

Although the Wrestling Squad of Granby only achieved one victory, the 73-74 wrestling team obtained impressive individual records. Outstanding among these were Abe Martinez's 12-0, and three time district, regional and state champion with 76 consecutive wins in a 3 year period. Also outstanding were Terry Shiver, and Faustino Cortes with 11-1 in dual matches. The entire Granby squad showed impressive form all year.

SWIMMING

DISTRICT REGIONAL CHAMPIONS

Coach Tom Fabian guided the swimming team to an undefeated record. Fabian's team continued its success by winning both the Eastern District and Eastern Regional Swimming Championships. Leading the Comets were two, four year lettermen: Captain Mark Hubal, swimming the 200 Individual Medley and the 100 Freestyle, and Diver Co-Captain Jeff Grass, undefeated in three years of District and Regional competition. Sensational sophomore Tom Prehn had a spectacular year setting records in the 200 and 500 freestyles. Another strong point in the Comet line-up was freshman breastroker Scott Hubal. Senior Tom Strouse dove well in his first year of competition while Paul Mikluschek was probably the most improved swimmer, moving into contention for the District and Regional 100 Butterfly Championships. Sharon Hawryluk was also a strong swimmer. With many talented swimmers returning, such as Beth Blanchard, Matt Hardy, Mike Schulman, Jeff Jones, Chip Guerney, Paul Anto and Ann Drieson, the Comets prove to be strong for many a year to come.

The Granby Orchestra is a relatively new organization having made its appearance during the 1969-70 school year at Granby High School.

During the short time of its existence, the orchestra has already achieved musical distinction within the instrumental music department at Granby and on a local and statewide basis.

The organization is now competing in the most difficult grade of music at the annual District Music Festival and has started what we hope will be many consecutive years of "Superior" Ratings.

In addition, the Granby Orchestra has also placed many students in the Regional and All-Virginia Orchestra.

The Granby High School Band was organized in 1939 and from its very beginning has been one of the truly outstanding musical organizations in the State of Virginia. Since 1946, the band has performed the most difficult music (Grade VI) at the District Music Festival and has consistantly received a superior rating from all three adjudicators. In addition to this fine record of musical achievement, the Granby High School Band has also consistantly placed many students in the Eastern Division of the Virginia Regional Band and the All-Virginia High School Band. Placement in both organizations is by competetive audition which points out the fine musicianship of the students in the Granby organization. Many of the graduates of the Granby High School Band have been awarded full scholarships to some of the outstanding Universities in the country. The Granby High School Band has also been honored to accept invitations to many of the State and National Music Conventions in addition to other Educational and Musical meetings and clinics. At each of these performances, the band has been acclaimed as an outstanding musical organization.

The Granby High School Band is a highly trained and well disiplined organization and the members are proud of this tradition of outstanding performances whether it be on the football field, in parade or in concert.

After a busy Christmas season the group began working immediately on music for the spring season. The singers usually perform approximately twenty concerts per season, varying from local elementary schools to civic clubs to such places as Williamsburg, Va. The group shall continue to produce the finest music possible in years to come.
